BISHOPS READ THEIR REPORTS

Large Attendance at Sessions of Episcopal Council of Virginia

CHEERING EXHIBITS.

Many Spectators Gather in Old Christ Church to Witness Proceedings of the Assemblage.

Bishop Gibson yesterday afternoon read his annual report of visitations during the past year which are summarized as follows:—Eight clergymen have received dismissory letters to other dioceses, 3 have been received into the diocese, one of them colored during the past year. The number of confirmations have been remarkably large, the total number of these being 1004. Of these 317 have been confirmed by Bishop Coadjutor Brown and of the others a number were confirmed by bishops who kindly helped Bishop Gibson during his illness before the consecration of Bishop Brown.

Bishop Brown next read his journal of visitations, and at the end made an appropriate allusion to his reception and his work in the diocese.

After the reading of the Bishops' annual reports the next order was the election of the regular standing committees of the various diocesan organizations. The standing committee itself was re-elected as follows: The Revs. Berryman Green, D. D., P. P. Phillips, and J. J. Gravatt, D. D. Messrs. Arthur Herbert, John R. Zimmerman, and Gardner L. Boothe.

The report of the standing committee of the diocese was then read by the Rev. P. P. Phillips, the secretary of the committee. It showed that four persons were recommended as candidates for orders, now studying at the Theological Seminary. Seven persons are recommended for ordination diaconate, and 8 to the priesthood one of them colored.

Consent was given to the consecration of the Rev. William Frederick Faber, D. D., as Bishop Coadjutor of Montana, the Rev. Thomas C. Darst, rector of St. James' Church, Richmond, Va., as Bishop of East Carolina, the Rev. Walter T. Summers, as bishop of Oregon, the Rev. George Coolidge Hunting ,as bishop of the Missionary District of Nevada, the Rev. Hiram Richard Hulse, as bishop of the Missionary District of Cuba, the Rev. Herman Page, D. D., as Bishop of the Missonary District of Spokane, the Rev. Paul Jones, as Bishop of the Missionary District of Utah, and the Rev. George S. Bliss, D. D., as Bishop Coadjutor of Vermont. It will be seen that there have been eight bishops consecrated during the past year and two of these Dr. Darst and Dr. Hunting were graduates of the Virginia Seminary.

The following were next elected as clerical delegates to the Provincial Synod to be held in the city of Richmond next fall, the Revs. Drs. Berryman Green, E. L. Goodwin, W. D. Smith, and J. J. Gravatt, the alternates being the Revs. Drs. Morris and Bowie, and the Revs. Messrs. Burkhardt and Neve.

Other general business was transacted when the hour of adjournment, six o'clock, arrived, the council taking a recess for dinner to meet at eight o'clock as a Board of Diocesan Missions. At this meeting a most helpful address was delivered by the Rev. Mr. Cox, of East Carolina.

Second Day.

Thursday Morning Christ Church May 20th, 9:30 o'colck.

The council opened with divine service by the Revs. F. E. Warren and Thomas G. Faulkner, both of Richmond, Va. The Bishop took the chair at 10:15 o'clock and the tellers then announced the results of the balloting for lay delegates to the next Provincial Synod, which Bishop Gibson reported to the council as follows: —Messrs. Robert Beverley, Judge J. K. M. Norton, J. Stewart Bryan, and John B. Minor.

The consideration of the budget of the diocese was then called for by the bishop as this was not completed yesterday afternoon.

On motion of the Rev. S. P. Mayo the matter of appropriations from the Diocesan Missionary apportionment for Mountain Missionary work was brought before the council. Mr. Mayo making an address on the subject. It was afterward referred to a committee to be appointed by the bishop which is to report at the next council.

The budget for diocesan expenses as recommended by the Board of Apportionment for the next council year was then adopted.

The report of the committee on canons was then read by the secretary, Mr. Gardner L. Boothe, who presented the proposed canons on the Church Pension Fund for the diocese of Virginia. On motion of Dr. Green the chairman of this committee on canons, the canons was laid before the council and Mr. Morrell Sayre, the general secretary of the Pension Fund, addressed the house. It is proposed under this canon that the Widows' and Orphans' Fund and the Disabled Clergy Fund, be continued under the present diocesan management with its regular treasurers now being Mr. E. B. Addison. and Col. W. H. Palmer, of Richmond, Va., and that the total accruing inerest on the investments of these funds and the parochial contributions thereto be turned over annually to the Church Pension Fund as the premium of the diocese of Virginia to this fund. It is estimated that when the diocese of Virginia accepts this proposed canor and enters into relation with the Church Pension, the lowest annuity will at once be $600 for any retired or disabled clergyman.

The morning session of the council closed with a discussion of this question.

GERMAN REPLY READY MONDAY

Will, It Is Said, Be Delivered in Washington Early Next Week

PACIFIC IN NATURE?

Germany, it is Believed, is Not Thinking of Breach of Diplomatic Relations With United States.

Berlin, May 20—Germany's reply to the American note regarding the Lusitania and similar incidents in all probability will be completed by Monday. Unless there is some unforeseen delay it will be delivered to Washington early next week.

Those officials in whose hands the reply rests have let it be known that because of the length of the American note, and becaus of the length of the detailed requests it contains, the German reply requires the most careful drafting, but it is felt that there is no reason for any apprehension concerning German-American relations. semi-offical advices, will be polite and friendly. It is emphasized that the last thing Germany is thinking of is a breach of diplomatic relations.

Washington, May 20—High officials of the Government are less hopeful of receiving a satisfactory reply from Germany to the American note, according to information today from responsible quarters. This information coincides with the tenor of Berlin dispatches, and comment in German newspapers which are less encouraging than earlier advices.

It is still the belief that a grave clash with Germany will be avoided, but just now the outlook is that a disagreeable diplomatic snarl will continue for some time.

STARVING AT VERA CRUZ

Scores of Women and Children in Daily Corn Line

Galveston, Texas, May 20—Evidence of distressing economic conditions throughout Mexico is beginning to show in Vera Cruz within sight of General Carranza's headquarters according to passengers arriving here from Vera Cruz. The distribution to the poor of corn, said one of these passengers, has resulted in the formation of a corn line, where daily scores of women and children patiently wait for the scanty supply doled out to them.

The influx of persons from the interior, augmented by the increased garrison, has swelled the normal population of 35,000 to more than 100,000 The feeding of so many people, the overtaxing of the water system and inadequate santitation are giving General Carranza almost as much concern as his efforts to push Villa back in the north.

The steady depreciation of paper money, issued by the Carranza government to a point where it sells at the rate of 12 pesos for one American dollar, has helped to make prices to the poor prohibitive.

FIRE ON AMERICAN BOAT.

PASTOR JUSTIFIES REVOLT

Says Colorado Miners Have Won a Great Moral Victory

Washington, May 20—While John D. Rockfeller, Jr., waited here again yesterday to testify before the Industrial Relations Commission in a supplementary inquiry into the recent strike against the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company the commission listened to an arraignment of that concerns' methods by the Rev. Eugene S. Gaddis, a Methodist clergyman, formerly in charge of the company's sociolagical department. Mr. Rockefeller is expected to testify tomorrow.

The Rev. Mr Gaddis said he was discharged from the sociological department of the Colorado company last February, after making a personal appeal to Mr. Rockefeller to be allowed to continue important betterment work among the miners. He justified the revolt of the strikers against military and other constitutional authority in Colorado on the ground that laws for improvement of the miners' condition had been ignored and there was no other way left to seek a remedy.

"Technically the terrible strike of the Colorado miners was lost," said Mr. Gaddis, "but in reality it was one of the greatest labor victories ever achieved in the United States, because today the coal operators have their ear the ground and they will be very careful indeed in the future."

The minister charged that minor officials of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company were directly responsible for the strike, asserting that they ignored the law, dominated employes in a brutal manner, fostered saloons, obstructed efforts to improve working and hygienic conditions and even controlled elections in direct conflict with State laws. He asserted that today the company dominates politics as much as "it dares but not to such an extent as it did before the strike."

Mr. Gaddis compared the condition of the miners in Colorado before the strike to that of the colonists before the American Revolution, saying "there was a conviction among the miners that it was impossible to get justice from the Government."

DEATH BLOW IN FIGHT

Mystery of Farm Hand's Fatal Injury Cleared by Witness

Norristown, Pa, May 20—The mystery has been cleared, apparently, as to how John Strouse, the Audubon farmhand, received a fracture of the skull which caused cerebral hemorrahage and death in Charity Hospital on Monday. He was struck by Frank Clark, aged 25, whom he abused Sunday afternoon at Jeffersonville.

Lloyd Daub of this place informed the authorities that while taking a walk with Clark, Strouse asked to be directed to Audubon. Neither were familiar with the country but told Strouse the direction they thought was right. Another man came along and pointed out a route in an entirely opposite direction, whereupon Strouse, who was under the influence of liquor, started trouble and finally Clark knocked him down. As he did not arise, the two laid Strouse on the roadside and returned to town. That night Clark heard that Strouse's condition was serious. and he returned to his home in Delaware to which place a constable went yesterday to cause his arrest on a charge of manslaughter.

Strouse lay along the roadside from 1:30 in the afternoon, when the assault occurred until 8:30 at night when he was brought to the hospital here, where he died about 12 hours later.

MAY HAVE HIT SUBMARINE

Philadelphia, May 20—The American steamship Wico, which arrived here Tuesday from Stockholm, Sweden, is believed by her captain to have run down and sunk a submarine in the North Sea on her last voyage to Stockholm. Captain Gibson said the vessel quivered from bow to stern and the blades of her propeller were found to be badly damaged. He first thought the ship had struck a submerged rock, but as there is no land near he believes the Wico ran into a submarine which was maneuvering to get in position to fire a torpedo.

ITALY READY TO ENTER CONFLICT

Troops Now Massed and Cheering on Austrian Frontier

POPE WITH COUNTRY

General Readjustment of Plans of Allies Brought About by Additions to Kaiser's Enemies.

Paris, May 20, 3:50 p. m.—Reports have been received here from Rome that the Italian chamber of deputies by virtually a unanimous vote, today granted full powers to the minister of war.

Amsterdam, Holland, May 20, via London, 3:20 p. m.—"No one in Italy any longer doubts that war begins today," is the text of a telegram sent from Chasso, Switzerland, under date of Thursday (today) and printed in the Berliner Tageblatt.

Rome, May 20— Italy is ready to strike today.

Her troops are massed along the Austrian frontier.

Great cheering crowds surround the chamber of deputies building where the government is to make its declaration today.

Unless the debate is long drawn out, parliament, before midnight will pass a bill intrusting the nation's fate to the Salandra cabinet.

These are the developments of the last twelve hours:

Pope Benedict has cast the weight of his influence on the side of his native country. His Holiness has approved the text of a prayer to be recited by Italian soldiers on the battlefield and has added his hope for a victory for Italian arms.

The Italian foreign office today issued a summary of the green book explaining Italy's position to the world. The summary confirms the report that Italy on May 4 denounced her treaty with Austria paving the way for war. The summary declared the concessions Austria was willing to make were entirely inadequate.

Rome, May 20—Italy's expected entrance into the war will result in a general readjustment of the allies' plan of attack against Germany and Austria, it was stated authoritatively today.

The recent tour of Gen. Paul Pau, France's one armed hero, resulted in a perfect understanding as to the part Italy will play in the war.

Pau conferred with the Russian Grand Duke Nicholas, with the Serbian military leaders, and finally with General Cadrona, chief of staff of the Italan army. An entirely new marshalling of forces against the Austro-Germans is said to have been planned.

LORD KITCHENER ORDERS CANNON

Bethlehem, Pa., Has Order to Furnish Eight Thousand Pieces

WILL PAY $16,150,000

Purchase of American Ordnance British War Lord's Answer to Torpedoing of Lusitania.

Bethlehem, Pa., May 20—An order for 8000 field pieces from the Bethlehem Steel Company was the reply of Lord Kitchener, head of the British War Office to the sinking of the Lusitania by a German submarine.

The order was accompanied by a check from a banking house noted the world over for the stupendous sum of $16,150,000 partly for work, adready done or sub-et by the Bethlehem Steel Company for the British Government, and partly an advance payment for material that will go into the 8000 new guns.

Some big checks have been coming into the Bethlehem offices lately, but none ever so large as this, and there was a rush on the part of the officials to see it as a curiosity. It was recalled that, at the Chicago Fair, one of the exhibits in the Pennsylvania Railroad building was a framed check for $12,000,000 up to that time the largest in history. The Bethlehem Steel boys are rather proud that they got one to surpass this but it is said the record check is now $49,000,000.

The cannon ordered are field pieces of the kind that can be turned out in about a month, and the Bethlehem Company is now well equipped to make them faster than any other concern on earth, the forging, boring, machining and temptring being done with great rapidity by means of modern machinery that works far more speedily than anything known several years ago. In the matter of equipment, it is declared, Bethlehem is in all things as well furnished as Krupp and in many departments surpasses the great German plant.

A case in point is the blast furnaces, in charge of Andrew Farabaugh, noted several years ago as the football captain of Lehigh University. It is said he has developed into a really great iron manufacturer, producing pig iron better and cheaper than any other furnace manager in the country today. The pig iron rapidly goes into the open hearth and other furnaces to be transformed into steel. Enormous quanities are required, especially of crucible steel, which goes into the manufacture of shapnel and other projectiles.

The projectile contract are well under way, the shells now being made so rapidly that Bethelhem is fast catching up with the demands of Earl Kitchener, who for a time made Mr. Schwab's life miserable urging him to hurry up. Shrapnel is now being turned out at the rate of 12,000 a day, and of the one pounders and smaller shells the product is 50,000 and upwards every 24 hours.

Buildings are being erected and machinery installed largely to increase the output of shrapnel.

A coroner's jury in Ramsgate, England, has returned a verdict of "willful murder" against Emperor William in the case of John Smith, who died as the result of shock following injuries sustained in the Zeppelin raid Monday. The coroner suggested that the jury fix the responsiblity on the persons blamed for war waged in this manner.

WILL NOT SIGN MEASURE

Mayor Fisher Does Not Intend, However, to Veto Telephone Ordinance.

It was stated in the Gazette yesterday that Mayor Fisher would veto the ordinance recently passed by both branches of the City Council which provides for advertising for bids for a franchise to construct and operate a telephone line in the city of Alexandria. This was not exactly correct, as the Mayor will simply allow the ordinance to become operative without his signature and later will explain his action in a communication to Council.

The ordinance was reported favorably by the joint committees on finance, general laws and streets March 9 and was passed by the Common Council. It was laid over in the Board of Aldermen on the same night, and called up April 27, read the second time and again laid over. It was called up again at the last meeting, May 11, and adopted, Mr. Summers only voting against the measure.

ITALY READY FOR HOSTILITIES.

Before this article shall have been read Italy will have crossed the Rubicon. From all that can be gathered, it seems the country has decided to draw the sword against Austria, and in doing so she will necessarily array herself against Germany. The German and Austrian ambassadors have, it is said, left Rome and the United States minister has been requested to take over their embassies in the Eeternal City. The Italian embassies in Berlin and Vienna will also be under the control of the United States Legation.

Berlin newspapers, after expressing for weeks the hope that German diplomacy would keep Italy among the neutral countries of Europe, now admit that "the street has won."

Roumania, it is believed, will also array herself against Germany and Austria. Greece has from the beginning of the war been anxious to enter the arena, but the wife of the king being a sister of the Kaiser, she has played her part in keeping that country out of the conflict. There is no telling, however, how long she will be able to keep down the war spirit which is gradually gaining force.

EXPECT DEFIANT REPLY TO NOTE

The optimism of the past few days which has been indulged in by Washington officials concerning Germany's answer to President Wilson's note has been succeeded by decided pessimism. If the Berlin newspapers are expressing the attitude of the Kaiser, the reply will be disappointing to all who expected any concessions from Germany. The press of that country urges a firm defiance of the United States.

This, however, is in accordance with German diplomacy, and though Bismarck is no longer guiding the Teutonic ship, his iron hand is as much in evidence as ever.

When Congressional conventions met in Alexandria many years ago Magruder Cawood, a former resident of this city, invariably appeared as a delegate from King George county, in which he spent the late years of his life His principal exclamation in the bi-yearly gatherings of his party was "King George will not be dictated to.". The Kaiser William is of the same sensitive nature.

GREAT BRITAIN'S MISFORTUNES.

It is observed that afflictions seldom come singly, and this is fulfilled today in England. While engaged in a war for the existence of her empire, the country is distressed by strikes among the working classes and while endeavoring to keep her people in line a vexatious cabinet crisis has been precipitated.

A new cabinet must be designated to restore confidence in the government and representatives of all parties, almost certainly will be nominated.

The new ministry it is reported in official circles is to include strong Unionist and Labor leaders who would bring to the government the popularity it has lacked during the trying days of the war.

Lork Kitchener is being criticized for his conduct of the war with Germany, it being alleged that he has allowed effective ammunition to become scarce.

"TOO MUCH BASEBALL"

"Too much baseball is not good for city employes," says the Administration Board of Richmond, and having it in mind the board has taken steps looking toward the installation o ftime clocks in all offices in the City Hall which come under its control.

The above brings to mind a reminiscence of the City Hall of Alexandria. Several years ago some of our worthy and efficient officials were suddenly seized by baseball fever and left their desks and gathered in the corridor for the purpose of indulging in a game. The first inning resulted in the smashing of three glass doors. The club was immediately disbanded and each of the players contributed his part toward having the damage repaired.

The Cunard Line officials have published a dispatch from Mr. Henderson, representative of the Anchor Line dated Glasgow, in which Henderson states that there is no ground for the story that the steamer Transylvania was chased by a German submarine or that any attempt was made to fire a torpedo at her.

The German emperor and his staff had a narrow escape on Sunday while watching the operations in a village near the River San in Galicia. A heavy shell bursting 500 yards away. Congressman Montague Delivers Address in Richmond.

Before a large company of representative Richmond business men as well as railroaders, Hon. A. J. Montague on yesterday afternoon delivered an eloquent and optimistic address on "After the War—What Then?"

The occasion was the weekly meeting of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. Tuesday Club.

Prefacing his address with the statement that it would be inappropriate for him to dwell upon any controversal theme for obvious reasons, and with an entire absence of expression of his views relative to the European war causation and the German-American status, Congressman Montague rang out a sweet optimistic note of hope for a clarification of national jurisprudence and a better feeling of brotherhood and a more potential moral force as an outcome of the present great conflict.

"We are too near its shadows—too confused by its resounding tones—to be quite sufficiently balanced to calmly determine the responsibility for the conflict, but may speak of the effects of its outcome in relation to the principles of the Prince of Peace."

The speaker confessed that the great conflict had tempted to discouragements the hearts of those who have striven for universal peace—"but yet they are not disheartened, for after the war is over there will be a rift in the clouds and a sublimer sun in civilization's horizon."

He predicted as one outcome of the fierce struggle a "new code of rules of conduct and relationship on the part of nations." This need not be a formal code, but a clearly defined outline of conduct—"a classification of international jurisprudence"—and an easier and better way of settling contentions. He did not have faith in arbitration—the arbitrators are of partisan selection. It has failed often and signally.

Out of the conflict may result the establishment of a great international court. And it is needless to have courts without laws. "Right here has been the chief infirmity of the internaional peace advocates. It is not wise to select judges after contentions arise."

Suspended with its light diffused over the earth a touch of righteousness will give guidance to the nations.

The one dominating force in the world is the moral force of the children of men. Their force may be sometimes evaded, sometimes shunned, the arm that bears the torch may eb weak or its voice of proclamation not loved—but that light and that voice will brighten and bless the world."

This last quoted sentence led up to a beautiful portrayal of the lovely birth of Christianity—of the martyrdom of the first Christians, of their weakness and untrained minds and of the wonderful growth of that spiritual force now abroad in the world.

The speaker eloquently stressed the effectiveness of the moral and spiritual forces as greater than physical force—more efficiency, more blessed and declared a midst applause that "What is good for a man is good for a city; that which is good for a city is good for a State; what is good for a State is good for the nation and what is good for nations is good for the world."

He quoted with effect the Savior's words: "Who so saveth his life shall lose it, and who so loseth his life for my sake shall find it."

"The wise man or wage earner of today invests his money in real estate" —Andrew Carnegie.

"On account of my confinement in the printing office I have for years been a chronic sufferer from indigestion and liver trouble. A few weeks ago I had an attack that was so severe that I was not able to go to the case for two days. Failing to get any relief from any other treatment I took three of Chamberlain's Tablets and the next day I felt like a new man" writes H. C. Bailey, Editor Carolina News, Chapin, S. C. How Mrs. Harrod Got Rid of Her Stomach Trouble
"I suffered with stomach trouble for years and tried everything I heard of, but the only relief I got was temporary until last spring I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them at our drug store. I got immediate relief from that dreadful heaviness after eating and from pain in the stomach," writes Mrs. Linda Harrod, Fort Wayne, Ind. Obtainable everywhere.
